

EXPATRIATES

VOLUME 14, NUMBER 7, OCTOBER 1989

STEPHEN BUCHANAN

Improvisations for Classical Guitar

BUCHANAN'S GUITAR MAY BE CLASSICAL, but his style certainly isn't. Except for duets with Fred Frith and Chris Cochrane and a "Surplus Sax Surprise," all 30 improvisations on this cassette are guitar solos spanning the past ten years. Buchanan's style ranges from flamenco to effect-laden psychedelia, with all original twists. His skill is immaculate and his fingers are furious, whether he's picking at the neck of the guitar or banging away on the wood.

Make sure you write away for the brand new 18-page Sound of Pig catalogue at Al Margolis's new address. This is cassette number 253, but don't let the large number of other titles obscure the merits of this release.

(Stephen Buchanan, 68 Thompson Street #14,
NY, NY 10013; or Sound of Pig, PO Box 150022,
Van Brunt Station, Brooklyn, NY 11215)

—NS